Where can I download Liquid Notes?

Last Updated: Jan 15, 2015 11:04PM CET

This article provides information on where to download the installation file of Liquid Notes.

Quick answer: Visit our website and click on Download, this will take you directly to the download page.

Download of Liquid Notes software

The installation file for Liquid Notes is available on our own website, as well as on a number of software download portals (CNet, Softonic, etc.) and resellers.

Please follow these steps to download Liquid Notes:

1. Go to the download page - <http://www.re-compose.com/download.html>.
2. In the web form presented please enter your details, select language and operating system, and click on "Submit".
3. On the next page the download link for the selected operating system will be presented. Click on it to start the download of Liquid Notes, and save the respective files to your computer!

Within some minutes you will also receive an email notification from us containing the download links for Liquid Notes (for the language and operating system you selected) and other relevant information. Please check your spam folder if you haven't received any message from us after 10 minutes.

Alternatively, you may also visit our support page to retrieve the software and other related information directly. Note that you have to choose them manually for your operating system from the list presented there.
